Fear Result of Receivership for Trolley Road.

MONCURE ISSUES STATEMENT Philadelphia, and Baltimore clubs.

Attorney for Victims of Wreck on July 3 Alleges Action of Trustees Will Result in Thwarting Suits for Damages Brought by Injured People-Maj, Charles Hine in Charge.

That the Washington, Alexandria and Falls Church Railroad has voluntarily gone into the hands of a receiver to avoid the payment of the demands of the claimants for injuries received in the wreck on that road July 3, is the opinion of R. C. L. Moncure, of the firm of Machen & Moncompany, and also at the head of the which extends into the month of April. Application for the receivership was made by John S. Barbour, of the law firm of Barbour & Keith, of Fairfax, before Judge Edmund Waddill, jr., in the United States Circuit Court for the Eastern district of Virginia, Tuesday. The court at once named Maj. Charles Hine, and he was instructed to take possession and continue the operation of the railway's lines.

"My opinion," said Mr. Moncure last night, "is that the company is endeavoring to defeat the claimants, or to settle with them at nominal damages. Such steps have already been taken by my firm, representing a number of the claimants, as in its opinion will properly protect their interests. In other words, the railroad company is either going to settle with the claimants for the wreck or go out of business. In the former case, the claimants will at least be relieved. In the latter case, the whole public will feel that a great good has been done the community if some other corporation takes charge of the property and operates it in "The Washington, Arlington and Falls Church Railroad," continued Mr. Moncure, "has been operating in this section of Virginia for the last ten or twelve This company was chartered by the legislature of Virginia and began op-erations about 1896 or 1897 with a capital stock of $100,000, 60 per cent of which is owned by the Hinchman family of Philadelphia and the other 40 per cent by R. H.

Little Stock Paid In.

"Only $27,000 of the capital stock was paid in by the stockholders, and the road was built with this amount and with subscriptions in labor and otherwise of the persons living along the line. When this sum had been utilized the promoters issued bonds, secured by mortgages upon the property, for the sum of $100,000 which they purchased at $50,000, the bonds bearing 6 per cent interest, thereby real- or izing 12 per cent upon their investment. "Later, when the road was extended to Fairfax Court House, another Issue of bonds was made of $250,000, all of which were purchased by the Hinchman family or their representatives, for $185,000 the present time the Hinchman family who are the owners of a majority Interest in the capital stock, own practically all of the bonds, and are receiving about 9 per cent upon their investment. 'Upon an investigation of this corporation, the corporation commission of the May 17, 1907, used the following language The commission is of the opinion that the net earnings of the defendant railway company from all the lines operated by it, derived by deducting all operating cxpenses and taxes from the gross pas senger revenue, constitute an exceedingly profitable return upon the capital actually invested in the property of the corpora-
